DREW BIG CROWD

PEOPLE TURNED AWAY FROM GRADUATING EXERCISES.

AN AMERICAN BY CHOICE

Dr. Munro Appreciates the Freedom and Opportunities Offered by Citizenship in This Country.

The high school auditorium proved entirely too small a place for the commencement exercises Friday night, given in honor of the mid-winter graduating class. Hundreds were turned away, although many extra chairs were placed, and many stood in the aisles around the walls and out in the halls.

At 8 o'clock the march, played by Mr. P. O. Landon, announced the coming of the class. And they came in the handsome gray caps and gowns that are getting quite nice, becoming and distinguished looking to us all, now that they have appeared on the platform for the third time. We all rebelled at first, you know, along with the sweet girl graduate, and thought it was a shame that she would not be allowed to appear any more in all her glory in a gown of white fluffiness, and show just how lovely and beautiful she really is. But my, oh, my. We wouldn't near change things now. For she looks so sweet and demure in that gray gown, and the boys—so much bigger, and handsomer, and smarter—lots better than the other way. Last night each one of the girls carried an armful of carnations, just the thing to give the right color effect.

After the class was seated a piano number, Scherzo, by Preyer, was given by Miss Mary Campbell of Kansas City. Miss Campbell's interpretation and execution of the piece was truly brilliant and delightful to her audience, but especially so to musicians present.

Mrs. Ferdinand Townsend then sang two numbers, "Sunbeams," by Renald, and "Were I a Bird," by Logan. Her singing was well received and justly so. She has a finely cultivated voice, and uses it easily and effectively.

The address of the Rev. Dr. Donald D. Munro, pastor of Calvary Baptist church of Kansas City, followed. His subject, "An American in the Making," was a quick, brilliant review of the history of European peoples in their struggles for the mental, moral and physical freedom that has resulted in the most virile, the purest, best and greatest people the world has ever known. Dr. Munro is a native of Scotland, and chose to become an American after he had reached the years of manhood. From his speech Friday night he would have us believe he is a better American for having made the choice after the most serious consideration than having been born an American and having no choice in the matter, and perhaps not appreciating the heritage of American citizenship, as it sometimes happens among men.

Dr. Munro is one of the greatest men and ministers in the country today, and one could not but feel proud he had made the choice he has made. He gives full credit to the men of England, Scotland and Ireland for the part they had in furnishing American citizens and he is proud, through and through, of his own Scotland. His humor is wholesome, breezy, bracing, and everybody enjoyed him thoroughly.

After Dr. Munro's talk Mrs. F. P. Robinson gave two vocal numbers, "A Memory," by Lang, and "Joy of the Morning," by Beach, and was very enthusiastically received, as always.

The class was presented their diplomas by Superintendent C. A. Hawkins in a really eloquent speech. Those receiving them were Carrie Margaret Baker, Hazel Everhart, Myrtle Glen Bickiss, Vera Tilson, Mildred Jean Robinson, Herminia Fisher, Helen Mary Hoply, Blanche Grace Shippy, Robert Luther Brown, Theodore Garri, Robinson, Edward Wright Gray. The evening closed with two splendid vocal numbers by Rev. Gilbert S. Cox, "Mavourneen," an Irish song by Lang, and "The Year's at the Spring," by Beach.

The benediction was given by Dr. Munro.

Kansas Guests Leave.

Mr. Leslie Hazelwood and Miss Marie Hazelwood of Atlanta, Kan., who have been the guests of Mrs. S. S. Casteel the past week, left for their home Friday.

ELECTION OF POSTMASTERS.

Busby Measure Provides Selection by Votes of the People.

Senator William G. Busby of Carrollton has a bill at Jefferson City that would enable the people to vote on their postmasters. Candidates for such places this year need not feel the least afraid, however, as the bill, if passed, will not become effective until 1916.

The plan of Busby is similar to the plan of selecting United States senators by a direct vote of the people. The idea is that legislators in congress and the president of the United States, who has the power of appointment, will respect the wishes of the people in the appointment of postmasters where the candidates are selected by ballot.

Busby's bill provides that the towns in each congressman's district shall be numbered, and that the numbers of the towns shall be filed with the county clerks of the district. Each political party shall select candidates for these numbered towns. Not less than thirty days prior to the election, candidates for the position of postmaster shall file their notice of candidacy. The names will be placed on a separate ballot, and the candidate receiving the highest vote of that party which elects a president shall be considered the choice of the voters of the town for postmaster.

Penalties are proposed for violation of the provisions of the law. Whether or not the act becomes a law, the author declares, it will start the people to thinking of the possibilities of such a statute, and that some future legislature will pass a similar act, even if the present one does not.

Busby declares that, so far as he knows, no state in the Union has such a statute, and, so far as he knows, no state legislature has been presented with such a bill.

WON FROM BENTON TEAM.

Score Was 36 to 25 for the Normal—To Play at Cameron Tonight.

Special to The Democrat-Forum. St. Joseph, Jan. 25.—The Northwest Normal basketball team got revenge on the Benton highs for former defeats here last night when they defeated the south siders at Putter's hall by a score of 36 to 25. Though exceedingly rough, the game was interesting throughout and a large crowd of rooters cheered for their favorites.

Benton scored first with two free throws, then Perrin evened the count with a field goal, and from then on the Normal was in the lead. At the end of the first half the green and white led, 19 to 10, and in the final period the winners counted 17 more and the Bentons got 15. All but eight of Benton's points were scored by McDonald on free throws, while the Normal counted thirteen field goals and ten from the foul line. The line-up:

Benton—McDonald and Weir, forwards; Otten, center; Garber and Bussjager, guards.

Normal—Vandersloot and Daise, forwards; Perrin, center; McClintock and Taylor, guards.

Summary—Field goals, Vandersloot 5, Daise 4, Perrin 4, McDonald 2, Weir, Otten. Free throws, McDonald, 16 out of 23. Perrin, 8 out of 16. Vandersloot, 2 out of 3. One point was awarded each team.

Saturday morning the Normal squad left for Cameron, where they will meet the Missouri Wesleyan college quintet Saturday night. The teachers feel good over their victory last night and hope to return home with a clean slate.

PAY FORD RAGGING ROAD

New Bill Would Allow 60 Cents Per Mile for Road Dragging—Lots of Liquor Bills Introduced.

(By William Job.)

Jefferson City, Jan. 24.—The senate and house met this forenoon and several resolutions were offered and bills introduced. Both bodies have adjourned to Monday at 2 o'clock, which will give several of the committees time to catch up with their work.

The first bill to pass the house was Speaker Hull's automobile law, reducing the license fee to dealers from $16 to $10, but the fee for automobiles remains the same. Taking and operating an automobile without the consent of the owner is made a misdemeanor, and in case the party is a chauffeur his license is revoked, and in no case is he granted a license again. The bill passed the house by 121 yeas to 3 nays.

There is a bill in the senate providing for an annual registration fee of $5 on all corporations for the benefit of good roads, which would increase the road fund $100,000 annually if it passes.

A joint and concurrent resolution submitting to the voters of the state an amendment to the constitution creating a state tax of ten cents on the one hundred dollars valuation to be apportioned to each county for a permanent road fund has been introduced. The bill now before the house giving the road overseer or highway engineer the right to employ someone to drag the road four times, or two rounds, at not to exceed 60 cents for any one mile, or not to exceed $10 for any one year per mile, preference given to the occupants of the land abutting the road, is conceded to be a good bill, especially in that part of the state where the road drag is practical. In our county, where the road drag works like a charm, where we have a good roadbed, you will find someone ready to drag the road if they know they can get a little something for their time.

There is a bill now pending increasing the legal weight of a sack of flour from forty-eight to forty-nine pounds. This same bill was bitterly opposed by the millers two years ago and failed to pass. Liquor bills have been falling into the hopper like a spring shower. One forbidding canning beer in any street, alley, vacant building or lot, making it a fine of $25. I am not sure but what this includes cow sheds, hay stacks or any place to hide. I want to caution my farmer friends to be careful for there is another that forbids candidates treating, as the canning law and this one might blend. There is another requiring a two-thirds petition in a block or town for a license. One good old honest farmer living near this city came to the city last week and bought a whisky barrel to scald his hogs in, and when he drove the head in he found two large hands of long green tobacco and a small quantity of coffin varnish. He has preserved the tobacco as a keepsake.

Senator Craig has introduced thirteen bills so far, some of them by request. Sheriff Ed Wallace and Marshal Moberly came to the city the first of the week with a few of the other boys from our county and seemed to be very much devoted to them for a while.

President Taylor of the Normal was in the city at short time looking after the Normal's interests. I suppose he's going on the theory that the early bird catches the worm.

Returned From Europe.

Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Carter of Weston, Mo., who have been studying in Europe the past nineteen months, are visiting Dr. Carter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Carter. Mrs. Carter is well known in Maryville and was Miss Artye Mae Mason. During her stay in Maryville she was instructor in music, having graduated from the Hardin college of music at Mexico.

TO ADD ON DAVIES.

Addition Would Make First Senatorial District Slightly Democratic.

A senatorial redistricting bill was introduced in the house at Jefferson City on Friday by Overall of Dunklin county. According to the bill a change is made in the first senatorial district, and it is enlarged by the addition of one county, Davies, which is taken from the eighth district. The counties now in this senatorial district are Nodaway, Atchison, Worth and Gentry, and with Davies added to the district it will make the district slightly Democratic.

The population of the counties in the proposed new district was 84,869. In 1908 the Democratic vote of all these counties was 10,784, and the Republican vote was 10,566.

Senator Anderson Craig of this district is reported as saying at Jefferson City that he would be pleased to see the change made, but Senator Busby, representing the eighth, in which Davies is located, protested.

No change is made in the third district, comprising Holt, Andrew, DeKalb, Clinton, Platte and Clay. The number of senatorial districts is to remain the same, thirty-four.

DEATH AT ELMO.

Joseph Peery Died Friday Evening in the Methodist Hospital at Omaha.

Joseph Peery, a young farmer living two and a half miles east of Maryville, died Friday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in the Methodist hospital at Omaha. Mr. Peery was taken to Omaha the first of the week and was operated on Wednesday for appendicitis. The hospital physicians had no hope for his recovery after the operation was performed, which only prolonged his life.

The funeral services will be held Sunday morning at 11 o'clock in the Christian church of Elmo. Burial in the Odd Fellows' cemetery. Mr. Peery was 25 years old and is survived by his wife and a year-old son. Mrs. Peery was Miss Ava Pruitt of Clearmont. Mr. Peery was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Granville Peery, who lived in Elmo. He leaves three brothers, Grover, Will and Irvin Peery of Elmo, and two sisters, Mrs. Dorothy Cunningham and Mrs. June Davis, who live in Nebraska, all of whom arrived Friday for the funeral.

WAS A SWEET SUBJECT.

Miss Hull Talked on Sugar at the State Normal Friday.

Miss Myra Hull of the Home Economics department of the Normal gave a most interesting and instructive demonstration on "Sugar" before an appreciative audience Friday.

The demonstration covered the chemical composition, commercial phases as well as the use of sugar in the diet and effect of sugar on the preparation of other food principles.

Lantern slides were used showing the growth and manufacture of the different commercial sugars which added much to the interest.

Miss Hull and the economics department are to be commended in working up so complete and instructive a demonstration.

The expenses of the fair amounted to $51.50, which leaves a net sum of $783.96. The object for which the fair was given was for the improvement of the parish residence of the pastor of St. Benedict church, Rev. Fr. Frowin Mergen, and to refurbish the same. ALLOWED $113,000

JUNKETING COMMITTEE RECOMMENDED THAT APPROPRIATION.

DR. TAYLOR IS HOPEFUL

A Very Favorable Mention of the Committee Leads President to Think School's Needs Will Be Met.

President H. K. Taylor returned Friday from Jefferson City, where he had been lobbying in the interest of the Normal school. Dr. Taylor is of the opinion that the school here will get about the appropriation they are requesting, that of $123,000.

The appropriation committee of the house has set aside Friday, January 31, as the day for that committee to take up the Northwest Normal appropriation. Dr. Taylor will return to Jefferson City then and will be accompanied by several others from here. A strong effort will be made to get the full appropriation that the school is demanding.

According to the report of the junketing committee that inspected and visited the Normal last December, conditions of the school are in fine shape. They recommend that the state appropriate $113,000 for the institution, or $10,000 less than the Normal is wanting. The item they cut down was that for teachers salaries. The Normal wants $90,000 for teachers' salaries for the next two years, and two years ago they received $72,000. The committee think that $80,000 would be a reasonable amount.

A section of the junketing committee reads as follows: "This institution has increased in its attendance, nearly twice the number in daily attendance now since the last biennial report. It is the youngest Normal school in the state and has had considerable difficulties to encounter, but under the efficient management of the present president and faculty it is coming to the front very rapidly. The books and accounts are in proper condition and the incidental funds received from students are properly accounted for."

PURCHASED SWITCHBOARD.

Hanamo Company Closed Deal Friday for One to Be Here by March 7.

The Hanamo company purchased Friday a new switchboard of the latest and most up-to-date improvements. The switchboard will be here about March 7. It will be the common battery system and where you can't ring the bell. The board will be in two sections and will contain 1,200 lines.

As soon as the board arrives work will commence on transferring those of the Bell subscribers who want a local phone over to the new switchboard. It will probably be about May 1 before the transfer is made of the wires and phones.

Many new phones are to be purchased, such as office desk phones, and residence phones.

High School Notes

Friday afternoon was class day for the mid-winter graduates and an elaborate program was arranged. Miss Hazel Everhart sang two numbers, the latter being the class history and prophesy combined. Miss Carrie Margaret Baker played a piano solo and then came the farce, "The Hartville Shakespeare Club," presented by seven girls of the class. The costuming and scenic effect were complete and the acting was without flaw. This club of girls were enjoying one of their regular club meetings and each member was requested to enact their favorite scene taken from one of Shakespeare's plays. They started out very well and with the best of intentions, but when their exit was made it was quite a different group of prima donnas than entered, for it was necessary that each one be conveyed to their respective hotels in the ambulance.

Were Surprised.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hughes, living northwest of Maryville, were pleasantly surprised Thursday when a number of their friends gathered together and took well filled baskets and spent the day with them. At 12 o'clock a bountiful dinner was served. Mr. and Mrs. Hughes will leave the neighborhood in a short time and make their home in Maryville. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Masters, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Babb, Mr. and Mrs. M. Baublitts, Mr. and Mrs. Al Taylor and son, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Hughes and son, Mr. and Mrs. Tab. McDowell, Mr. and Mrs. A. Lawson and son, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Brennan, Mr. and Mrs. Yunker and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Fink, Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Moore and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Wright and son, Mr. and Mrs. William Osborn, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Hall and son, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest McDowell, Mrs. T. J. Onstott and daughter.

The Dew Drop Inn Club.

Tuesday evening the Dew Drop Inn club planned and carried out a surprise on Mr. and Mrs. Albert Orme, who are moving from the neighborhood. Everything was loaded on the wagons ready for an early start for their new home in the morning. They were invited to Mr. Claud Moore's for supper, and while eating, the club dropped in on them and they were completely surprised. The ladies prepared lunch boxes, which were hidden in various places about the rooms. The men had to hunt for their supper and eat with the lady whose box they found. After the boxes were disposed of ice cream and popcorn was served. A book was presented to Mrs. Orme as a slight token of the high esteem in which she is held by the club. The evening was greatly enjoyed by all. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Yeager Mr. and Mrs. Harry Farrar and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Jones and children, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Moore and son, Mr. Albert Gorton, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Baker and the guests of honor, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Orme and children.

A Hero in a Lighthouse.

For years J. S. Donahue, So. Haven, Mich., a civil war captain, as a lighthouse keeper, averted awful wrecks, but a queer fact is, he might have been a wreck himself if Electric Bitters had not prevented. "They cured me of kidney trouble and chills," he writes, "after I had taken other so-called cures for years, without benefit and they also improved my sight. Now, at seventy, I am feeling fine." For dyspepsia, indigestion, all stomach, liver and kidney troubles, they're without equal. Try them. Only 50 cents at the Orear-Henry Drug Co.—Advertisement.

ALL YOU NEED IS A CASCARET TONIGHT

No Sick Headache, Biliary Stomach,
Coated Tongue or Constipated
Bowels by Morning.

Turn the rascals out—the headache, the biliousness, the indigestion, the sick, sour stomach and foul gases—turn them out tonight and keep them out with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels or an upset stomach.

Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets cleanse and regulate your stomach; remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and that misery making gas; take the excess bile from your liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from any drug store means a clear head, sweet stomach and clean healthy liver and bowel action for months. Children love to take Cascarets because they taste good—never gripe or sicken.—Advertisement.

Ex-Trust Magnate Says Price
Paid Was Entirely Too High.

WORTH ABOUT FIFTY A SHARE

Says Gates and Associates Placed Nuisance Value on It—It Was Real Competitor—Would Have Been Factor in Rail Trade for Some Time.

New York, Jan. 25.—The Tennessee Coal and Iron company was taken over by the United States Steel corporation during the panic of 1907 despite the protests of the corporation's president, William E. Corey. He so testified under cross-examination at the hearing of the government's suit to dissolve the corporation. He declared he had not concurred in the purchase because the price paid was too high. This price was the equivalent to $119 a share. Mr. Corey said he did not believe the stock was worth more than $50 a share. He added that John W. Gates and others who controlled Tennessee Coal and Iron had placed a "nuisance value" on the property.

"Mr. Gates told me that the stock was cheap at $250 a share," Corey testified. "I invariably replied that he was $200 too high."

Was Real Competitor.

Despite all efforts of attorneys for the corporation to confuse his testimony, Mr. Corey persisted in his contention that the Tennessee Coal and Iron company was and would have continued a steel rail competitor of the United States Steel corporation if it had not been taken over. One reason was because of the "nuisance value." He admitted that the company could not at that time make its open hearth steel rails at a profit, but said it would soon have been able to reduce its costs.

Corey was questioned about Judge Gary's knowledge of steel pools.

"He knew about all the pools all the time, because he attended some of the meetings," said Mr. Corey, mentioning the rail pool and the plate and structural pool meetings.

Before the Stanley steel investigating committee Judge Gary testified that as soon as the existence of the pools came to his knowledge he had ordered them stopped.

Mr. Corey said that he was not in accord with Judge Gary's views at all times, but declared that there was no ill feeling between them, although there was some question as to who was the chief executive, himself or Judge Gary.

EUGENE DEBS UNDER ARREST

Socialist Leader Is Charged With Obstructing Justice.

Terre Haute, Ind., Jan. 25.—Eugene V. Debs, Socialist candidate for president of the United States in the last election, was arrested here on an indictment returned against him in the federal court for the Third district of Kansas. Debs was charged with obstructing justice.

Debs wrote an expose of alleged conditions in the Fort Leavenworth prison for the Appeal to Reason which caused a government investigation. The matter printed in the Appeal was considered obscene by the federal grand jury and action was brought against the editors for sending it through the mails.

The witnesses in this case, it is alleged, Mr. Debs encouraged to leave the jurisdiction of the court. Debs brands the indictment as an effort to ruin the Appeal to Reason.

The arrest was made by federal officers from Indianapolis. The warrant was served in Debs' office and he accompanied the officers to the office of a United States commissioner where he furnished a $1,000 bond for his appearance at the May term of the United States court of the Third Kansas district.

Cuts Living Cost for Its Employees.

New York, Jan. 25.—The inauguration of a co-operative plan for all employees of the New York subway and elevated lines and the surface lines of the New York Railways company which will enable them to purchase at cost the necessities of life, was announced by Theodore P. Shonts, president of the Interborough Rapid Transit company and affiliated lines. An increase of wages, amounting to approximately $150,000 a year, also was announced.

Half Senate Composed of Democrats.

Washington, Jan. 25.—Democratic control of the next senate, which became a certainty when John K. Shields was elected by the Tennessee legislature, now rests at the minimum strength of forty-eight, exactly one-half of the membership of the senate. Democratic leaders are now watching Illinois, New Hampshire, West Virginia and Wyoming in the belief that a Democratic senator may be added to the list from some one of these states.

MILD WINTER HAS ITS EFFECT ON TRADE

Irregularity in Reports Due to Weather and Tariff Talks.

New York, Jan. 25.—Bradstreet's says: Weather conditions and tariff talk have made for irregularity in trade reports this week, while financial changes has reflected marked changes from peace negotiations in the near east. Rain and snow has been more widely distributed than for a long time, but this, while beneficial to winter-sown cereals, has retarded demand at retail and resulted in a continuance of flood conditions. In the leading industries there is almost unanimous report of activity. Coal is an exception, however. Mild winter weather has helped the building trades and iron and steel lines are also well employed. Labor has been well employed, except in New York. The grain markets lost some of their earlier January strength this week, but price changes were not important.

FIRE ADJUSTERS INDICTED

True Bills Returned Against Arson
Clique in Chicago.

Chicago, Jan. 25.—Indictments against four men, charging arson and burning property to defraud, were returned by the grand jury in connection with the investigation of the alleged "arson ring." Those named in the true bills were: Samuel Rottenberg, Joseph Clarke, Harry Brown and John Kahlzak.

Rottenberg, Clarke and Brown are public fire insurance adjusters, and Kahlzak is said to be one of the "torch bearers" employed by the combine. The bond of each defendant was fixed at $40,000.

Driver Killed by Snowslide.

St. Anthony, Ida., Jan. 25.—With a tale of death and intense suffering State Game Warden D. F. Hudson of Wyoming arrived here from Jackson's Hole, Wyoming. He was caught in a snowslide coming through Canyon pass on a mail wagon. Owen Curtis, the youthful driver, and a horse were killed. The accident occurred in exactly the same spot where the boy's predecessor lost his life in a similar slide last year.

Democrats to Hold Up Confirmations.

Washington, Jan. 25.—Democratic senators in caucus reaffirmed their determination to permit none of President Taft's nominations to be confirmed at this time, with the exception of army, navy and diplomatic appointments. The caucus was called at the instance of Senator Newlands to see if it were not possible to confirm Interstate Commerce Commissioner Clark's appointment.

Morehead Shakes Plum Tree.

Lincoln, Jan. 25.—Governor Morehead made the following appointments: Deputy oil and food commissioners, C. E. Harman of Holdrege, chief; W. S. Austin of Central City; chief labor commissioner, C. W. Pool of Tecumseh; under deputy game wardens, S. A. Weaver of Superior, C. M. Hunt of Valentine; state printing commissioner, N. J. Ludi of Wahoo; state bank examiner, John Boatsman of Morrill.

Doctor Fined on U. S. Charge.

Kansas City, Jan. 25.—Dr. J. O. Lee of Kansas City, one of a number of physicians arrested by United States marshals recently in the government's crusade to stamp out the sending of illicit advertising through the mails, pleaded guilty to the charge of mailing improper matter in the federal court. He was fined $200.

Hudson Bay Store Burns.

Winnipeg, Jan. 25.—The Hudson Bay company's store at Portage La Prairie, fifty-seven miles west of here, was destroyed by fire. The store contained a large amount of valuable furs. The loss is estimated at $100,000.

SHOOTING NOT PREMEDITATED

Bullet Received by Nazim Pasha
While Upbraiding Rioters.

CALLS MEMBERS OF MOB CURS

Possibility of Complications Thought in Constantinople Sufficient to Prevent Any Measures by Coercion.
Retention of Adrianople Main Issue.

Constantinople, Jan. 25.—Nazim Pasha, the commander of the Turkish army, received his death wound while expostulating with a crowd of demonstrators for having become embroiled in a conflict at the grand vizierate. The official version of the affray, which is termed a regrettable incident, was issued.

When the demonstrators, it says, headed by Enver Bey, one of the leaders of the Young Turk party, penetrated the grand vizierate in an attempt to enter the council chamber they were stopped by Hafiz Bey, aide-de-camp to the grand vizier, who, drawing his revolver, fired a shot at them. The aide-de-camp of Nazim Pasha also fired at the crowd, his bullet striking Mehmed Nedjif, one of the demonstrators.

The demonstrators thereupon replied and Nazim's aide-de-camp was instantly killed.

Bullet Interrupts Speech.

Nazim Pasha, who was in the council chamber, heard the shots and rushed outside. Facing the demonstrators, he upbraided them, calling them ill-mannered curs. While he was speaking a bullet cut short his remarks, and he fell dead.

A secret police agent and attendant of the Sheikh-ul-Islam, head of the Mohammedan clergy, also was killed. Nazim Pasha's aide-de-camp was the general's nephew, Captain Tewfik Bey Kibrizli. He was a very popular officer.

The leading unionists of Constantinople declare that the shooting of Nazim was unpremeditated and much regretted, but under the circumstances unavoidable. They say that the unionists bore no ill will toward Nazim, whose open and soldierly character made him respected even by his political opponents. The fact that a notorious enemy of the Committee of Union and Progress, like Rechad Pasha, the late minister of the interior, was allowed to go scot-free, it is argued, proves that the demonstrators desired to avoid bloodshed.

All the old ministers were set at liberty and permitted to return to their homes.

War's Renewal Undesirable.

The views held in official circles with regard to the situation between Turkey and the Balkan allies may be set forth as follows:

The Turkish government does not desire a resumption of hostilities, but the European powers are even less anxious to witness a renewal of the war, owing to the danger of complications in Europe. Turkey realizes its condition of financial penury, but this condition is chronic to it, and means are always at hand for keeping afloat.

On the other hand, from a military standpoint, Turkey is in a better condition than ever to wage war with advantage, especially as the government believes the forces of the allies are near the point of exhaustion. Nevertheless, the porte would prefer to avoid further bloodshed if this is possible with honor and the possession of Adrianople by the allies is not insisted on.

DO NOT LIKE KNOX NOTE

Reply to Grey Is Found Unsatisfactory
by London Papers.

London, Jan. 25.—Secretary Knox's reply to Sir Edward Grey on the question of Panama is found unsatisfactory by the newspapers which comment on it.

The Westminster Gazette, generally looked upon as the mouthpiece of the government, says: "The Knox suggestion leaves the door open to a long series of bickerings which might do much to undermine the good relations of the two countries."

The Pall Mall Gazette says: "Coming from any other country than the United States, the tone of Secretary Knox's reply would be deeply resented. Unless international law overrides municipal law when treaty rights clash with it, international law has no existence and peaceful intercourse between states becomes impossible."

Extension of Road to Cross Montana.

Minneapolis, Jan. 25.—The Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie railroad will spend $25,000,000 in building 725 miles of new road, which will cross Montana and strike the Canadian Pacific somewhere near the Montana-Idaho boundary line. This announcement was made by President Pennington, who has just returned from Montreal.

Frostbitten Fruit Barred From Trade.

Washington, Jan. 25.—In order to protect consumers and to prevent the flooding of the markets with oranges and lemons declared to be unfit for food, the federal board of food and drug inspection issued an order forbidding the sale in interstate commerce of fruits which have been damaged in the recent freeze in California.

FELT BAD ALL THE TIME

Shellhorn Lady Suffered a Great Deal, But Is All Right Now.

Shellhorn, Ala.—In a letter from this place, Mrs. Carrie May says: "A short time ago, I commenced to have weak spells and headaches. I felt bad all the time, and soon grew so bad I couldn't stay up. I thought I would die. At last my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, and it helped me; so he got some more. After I had taken the second bottle, I was entirely well. I wish every lady, suffering from womanly trouble, would try Cardui. It is the best medicine I know of. It did me more good than anything I ever used."

Cardui is a woman's tonic—a strengthening medicine for women, made from ingredients that act specifically on the womanly organs, and thus help to build up the womanly constitution to glowing good health.

As a remedy for woman's ills, it has a successful record of over 50 years.

Your druggist sells it. Please try it. N. B.—Write for Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions, and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper, on request.

NOT FIGHTING POST.

Express Company Officials Say It Was Established in Response to Wide-spread Demand.

Taking a bitter pill gracefully is a hard thing to do, and when a big corporation takes a particularly bitter one with unusual gracefulness it is a matter for comment. The following notice has been received at the Adams express office here from the office of the president of the company:

"To officers, agents and employees: Because of many inquiries from employees and others, it is deemed proper to state the attitude and policy of the Adams Express company toward the parcel post inaugurated on the 1st instant.

"The company appreciates that the parcel post has been established in response to a widespread and persistent demand, and anticipates it has come to stay. The company's policy will be to devote its energies to rendering a service even more efficient and satisfactory than in the past, and all officers and employees are directed to exert every effort to that end. The company does not wish any of its employees to adopt a policy of fault-finding toward the parcel post, but expects them by their efficiency, to demonstrate to its patrons the necessity for the express company's distinctive service.

"W. M. BARRETT, President." The attitude of the Wells-Fargo company is similar to that expressed above, and indicates that the shrewd men at the head of these big companies realize the wisdom of refraining from "knocking" a business competitor.

WHAT A COINCIDENCE!

Story of an Old Man's Hat, an Adopted Son, and a School Teacher.

By AUGUSTUS GOODRICH SHERWIN.

A neatly appressed girl walking slowly and sadly down a shady street in Creston. Ahead of her a wizened, bent old man was picking his careful way where the pavement was most shaded, for the sun was blistering hot. Only a stiff rickling breeze saved the day from utter sultriness. As the old man turned the corner the wind caught him like a cyclone. It sent his old fashioned high hat rolling and tumbling behind him.

Immediately a crowd of urchins playing in a vacant lot just off the street made a dive for the frayed, discolored head gear.

"Get it! Get it!" shouted jubilant voices. "Old Wilson's hat. Put it on the post and peg at it!"

"Boys, boys," chided the young lady, throwing up her veil and showing a face tear stained but resolute enough even in its rare prettiness to daunt the lads. She managed to catch hold of a big boy who had secured the hat.

"Give it to me," she said firmly. "The old gentleman is waiting for it."

"Humph, him!" cried the lad, contemptuously. "Why, he's only old Miser Wilson. Take it, though—just because you're so pretty, and are going to be our teacher."

The girl smiled brightly at the compliment. Her lip quivered, however, at the last words of the boy. She compressed them tightly and went up to the old man.

"The wind blew your hat away," she said.

"And you rescued it from those young tormentors," broke in the old man sharply. "I saw it all. I suppose," and his keen eyes sparkled, and he chuckled, "they told you who I was."

"Yes—Mr. Wilson."

"And the old miser? Hey, did they say that? You don't want to go around doing favors for old misers, do you, young lady?"

"Why, if they deserve it, surely. You do not look very dreadful, Mr. Wilson," said the young lady with a smile.

"You're the right sort, Miss Nellie Merrill," suddenly spoke out the old fellow. "You see, I know you. You are the young lady they sent for yesterday to teach the new school here. They pointed you out to me as you went to see the school trustees this morning. You'll make a good teacher, I can see that, and I'm going to tell the trustees so."

Miss Nellie's bright face clouded; again those gentle eyes were close to tears.

"I am afraid it will do no good, Mr. Wilson," she said mournfully.

"Why, what do you mean?" asked the old man.

"They have given me my expenses and a trifle more for coming down here," said Nellie. "They were a little premature, you see. Under the law they cannot begin school until here are 50 possible scholars between the ages of six and eighteen in the district."

"And you mean to say there aren't more than that in the township?" cried old Wilson. "Why, I fancy I could count more than that in boys alone who have stoned my windows, ebbed my orchards, and made themselves generally disagreeable."

"The count is official," explained Miss Nellie. "There are three scholars short, and the trustees have put off opening the school until the winter term."

Gabriel Wilson had been softly brushing his cherished hat all this time. Between whiles he stole keen glances at the modest, womanly girl before him.

"I suppose you've just been studying yourself half to death to qualify for the wretched $20 a month and board you were to get here?" he inquired with manifest interest.

"I am an orphan, and have no family dependence," said Nellie. "I feel pretty bad at missing this splendid position."

"An orphan, eh?" repeated old Gabriel thoughtfully. "So is my boy—that is, my adopted son, Sidney. He's away at college now, studying to be a lawyer. If I'm miserly, it's for him, dear boy. So, Miss," and the old man seemed stirred by a strong and sudden resolution, "you were to board with Miss Briggs, if everything went smooth, weren't you?"

"Why, yes, I believe that is the name of the lady."

"Well, I'm going to take you there now. I want you to promise not to go back to the city for a day or two. I've taken a sort of interest in you because—well, I had a little girl who died. She'd just about be your age if she had lived till now. I think I can fix this school question. Will you let me try?"

Nellie hesitated, but not for long. She went to Miss Briggs. It was the next afternoon when old Gabriel appeared. He was sprightly and smiling.

"I guess there must be a genuine, warm spot somewhere in this hard old heart of mine," he said, "for old Wilson the miser feels about as happy as you will when I tell you that the full fifty quota of scholars has been provided for."

"Oh, Mr. Wilson, can it be true?" cried Nellie joyfully.

"Yes, you can start in tomorrow, and I hope you drive some respectability into that unruly mob of boys who wanted to peg my old hat. My hat—think of it. In the family since the 40's, Miss Merrill!"

"How did you ever influence the school trustees?" inquired Nellie.

"Just moved a squatter's family with eight children over the township line into a vacant house I own inside the school district," explained old Gabriel with a chuckle of satisfaction and pride.

Life became a dream of beauty to Nellie in the lovely little village. The townspeople took to her gentle ways and the scholars idolized her. It seemed as if his rare good deed had somehow renovated the penurious old Gabriel. At all events he never missed a public examination in the little red school house. At the end of the term, the first exhibition day he marched proudly into the place with his adopted son, just home from college.

The young man decided that it was a relief to sit for two hours and take in the simple, yet interesting exercises of the graduation day of half a dozen proud children into class two. It charmed him to note the rare patience and kindness of the young girl fighting her first battle in the arena of life for her daily bread.

All this young Sidney told his adopted father. The latter simply chuckled, as was his wont, and muttered something about "good taste," and "respect for old age, and what attached to it—even old hats."

Then came the two weeks' vacation, embracing the winter holidays. Naturally old Gabriel called to see Nellie. Naturally, too, he took Sidney with him.

The shy old man, heard of skating and coasting parties after that. The day before the new term began he called Sidney to him.

"See here, young man," he observed. "I never find Nellie at home when I call now. I never find you at home at all. As a lonely old man, let me suggest that it would be a fine thing to get her into the family."

"Why," smiled Sidney, broadly and happily, "what a coincidence! I suggested the same thing to Nellie only last evening!"

CARELESS OF SMALL CHANGE

Like the Pin, Thousands of Pennies Are Lost Every Year—Many Are Carried Abroad.

That Americans are careless of their small change is evidenced by the fact that of the 150,000,000 pennies annually sent out from the Philadelphia mint only a small percentage are ever accounted for afterward, remarks Harper's Weekly.

It is thought that but a very small percentage of pennies lost in the streets are ever found, since they lack luster and fail to catch the eye as does a silver coin. The chances are that they are swept up with rubbish and so, for the most part, lost as coins.

When the new Lincoln pennies were first placed in circulation thousands were used as souvenirs, never again to find their way into general circulation. Hundreds were gold plated and silvered to be used as cuff links and stickpins.

County fairs and shows of various kinds mutilate thousands of pennies every year. At the fairs one may see a machine that will flatten a cent and at the same time emboss a souvenir view of the event.

Hundreds of thousands of pennies are carried out of the United States by tourists, who leave them abroad. A year or two ago 100,000 of them were shipped to Cuban bankers and placed in circulation among the laboring classes in Cuba. The American copper runs a close second to the pin, of which millions are lost every year.

Will Never Have to Propose Again. "Then you won't marry me?"

"No, Archibald, I will not."

"You will not change your mind and be sorry afterward that you have refused me?"

"Positively not."

"This, I suppose, is final."

"Absolutely."

"And there will be no come back?"

"None."

"You realize what you are doing?"

"Yes, I do. I wouldn't marry you if you were the last man on earth."

"Thank heaven," murmured the old bachelor, "I have done my duty. You're an angel, Maggie. I am going to send you a box of flowers. I was afraid you might accept me. Now, having been disappointed in love, I will never have to propose again."

SAYS RAILROAD TAX IS A JOKE

Corporations Taxed by Guess.

Work, Phelps Tells Committee.

FORMER LOBBYIST IN NEW ROLE

Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 25.—Colonel William Phelps, reformed railroad lobbyist, appeared before the railroads committee of the house in a plea for a public service commission with "teeth" to handle the corporations.

In the course of his speech he made several observations as to how the railroads and other corporations have dominated the state for their own benefit. It was not mere assertions the former lobbyist made, but a confession of what he knew existed from his long years of experience with the railroads.

"You can't fool the people any more," Colonel Phelps said, with a vigorous gesture, as he began his remarks.

"The way the state of Missouri taxes the corporations, especially the railroads, is a joke and the people are the butts of it," he continued.

"I asked a member of the state board of equalization the other day how they assessed the railroads," he said. "I imagine it would shock the people a good deal if they really knew how it was done."

"We don't have time to find out what they really ought to pay," the members of that board told me. "So we take their figures and increase them some for good measure and let it go at that." And that is exactly the way they are taxed."

Colonel Phelps said the greatest need for the public service commission was to have a body to find the physical valuation of the railroads and street car companies so that the state could quit the "guess work" taxation system.

The hearing was upon a house bill giving the present board of railroad and warehouse commissioners some of the powers of the proposed public utilities commission and letting it go at that. At least that is what Colonel Phelps intimated the bill proposed to do.

"The corporations have loaded the railroad and warehouse commissioners with duties, such as grain inspection and the like, and at the same time taken away their powers until it is worse than a joke," Colonel Phelps declared.

Upon invitation of Colonel Phelps, the railroad committee took no action upon the bill before it, but adjourned to meet jointly with the private corporations committee when the "railroad commissioners' bill and the 'major bill' will be discussed together. Nearly every large corporation in the state will be represented at this hearing.

"JIM CROW" BILL IN MISSOURI

Legislation Against the Negro Ready to Be Introduced.

Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 25.—A "Jim Crow" bill, requiring railroads and street car companies to provide separate coaches for negroes, will be introduced in the house today. It is expected that the house and senate Democrats will hold a caucus next week to decide whether the party shall take the measures up as party measures or not.

The house passed its first bill. Speaker Hull was the author. It amended the present motor car law by providing for an additional clerk, with a salary of $1,800 a year, in the secretary of state's office to help with the licenses. It also provides $500 fine for any person to take a motor car without leave for a "joy ride."

The house committee has reported the bill prohibiting free lunches in saloons, with a recommendation that it pass.

TEN FIREMEN OVERCOME

One Drowned in Flooded Basement at St. Louis.

St. Louis, Jan. 25.—One fireman was drowned in a flooded basement after having been overcome by chemical fumes with nine of his companions in fighting a fire in the plant of a glass company.

A broken window, through which the firemen entered, and rifled desks and lockers caused the police to think that the fire was started by burglars.

Ten firemen were overcome by ether fumes when they entered the basement and Charles Koester fell in three feet of water and was drowned.

Ohio Flood Into Missouri.

Cairo, Ill., Jan. 25.—A gap 400 feet wide has opened in the levee at Big Lake, on the Missouri side, and water is pouring over Mississippi county through the Fish Lake basin. A large section of southeast Missouri is being inundated rapidly. The residents are fleeing, leaving stock and household effects behind. Thousands of bushels of corn and other grains will be ruined.

Edward T. Rollins of Columbia Dead.

Columbia, Mo., Jan. 25.—Edward T. Rollins, a son of Major S. Rollins, who is known as the father of the University of Missouri, died of heart trouble in St. Louis. He was fifty-two years old and had lived in Columbia all his life.

INEZ MILHOLLAND.

New York Society Woman Who Will Lead Suffrage Parade in Washington.

New Women of Persia.

Persian women are essentially feminine. They want our dress, our education, our freedom, our happiness. Dress, it will be observed, comes first in the catalogue of feminine wants, but a change of dress or coiffure seems essential to all revolutionary movements.

In Teheran, in place of the face veil of white cloth, the Persian new woman now wears a small square of black net or woven horse hair; her shoes have high heels; a European skirt has taken the place of the short skirt and narrow trousers; the head kerchief is being abandoned. One lady tried to introduce an outfit to take the place of the "chuddur," leaving the face heavily veiled; but it was too revolutionary even for Teheran, and, after being mistaken for the ex-Shah in disguise, the wearer reverted in disgust to more orthodox clothes. In her home the new woman offers cigarettes instead of the water pipe—Moslem World.

How the Eiffel Tower Moves.

That the Eiffel Tower moves daily in a vertical and horizontal sense has long been beyond doubt. Apart from the scientific laws of expansion and contraction, which inevitably affected it, one could see it during a gale swaying from side to side. But its vertical movements were a mere matter of conjecture until M. Guillaume undertook to investigate them. He shows that the great iron structure may vary an inch in height every day. The elevation or depression is not equally distributed, as only one of its sides may be affected by the rise or fall of the temperature, and thus the tower may be compared to a person shifting his weight alternately from one foot to the other.

Festival of Old Maids.

St. Catherine's Day, the festival of old maids, was celebrated gaily in the Rue de la Paix, Paris.

It is the custom in Paris dressmaking establishments for the workgirls on November 25 to crown with white caps those comrades who, during the year, have reached the age of 25. The other girls put on caps of various kinds, and carry sprigs of orange blossom. During the afternoon, if the head of the business is generous, they drink the health of the old maids in champagne.

Exception.

"How did you find the roads up around Jingleville Corners?" asked Bilkins of Slatherberry, who had just returned from a motor trip.

"Oh, I wasn't particularly stuck on them," said Slatherberry.

"Really?" said Bilkins. "Well, I guess you're the only man that wasn't stuck on 'em for a whole day last year."—Harper's Weekly.

Woman's Story.

A lady wrote to 25 friends and told them she was giving a "white elephant" party, and that each guest was to come and bring the absolute most useless thing she possessed. And the whole 25 women turned up with their husbands!

Another lady was giving what is called a book tea—each guest to wear, pinned on her dress, something to represent the name of some book. The name of each book had been guessed, with one exception.

The lady who still puzzled everyone wore a photograph of her husband on her bodice. No one could guess the name of the book she intended the picture to represent, and after they had all given it up," she told them—"Life's Handicap."

DREW BIG CROWD

PEOPLE TURNED AWAY FROM GRADUATING EXERCISES.

AN AMERICAN BY CHOICE

Dr. Munro Appreciates the Freedom and Opportunities Offered by Citizenship in This Country.

The high school auditorium proved entirely too small a place for the commencement exercises Friday night, given in honor of the mid-winter graduating class. Hundreds were turned away, although many extra chairs were placed, and many stood in the aisles around the walls and out in the halls.

At 8 o'clock the march, played by Mr. P. O. Landon, announced the coming of the class. And they came in the handsome gray caps and gowns that are getting quite nice, becoming and distinguished looking to us all, now that they have appeared on the platform for the third time. We all rebelled at first, you know, along with the sweet girl graduate, and thought it was a shame that she would not be allowed to appear any more in all her glory in a gown of white fluffiness, and show just how lovely and beautiful she really is. But my, oh, my. We wouldn't near change things now. For she looks so sweet and demure in that gray gown, and the boys—so much bigger, and handsomer, and smarter—lots better than the other way. Last night each one of the girls carried an armful of carnations, just the thing to give the right color effect.

After the class was seated a piano number, Scherzo, by Preyer, was given by Miss Mary Campbell of Kansas City. Miss Campbell's interpretation and execution of the piece was truly brilliant and delightful to her audience, but especially so to musicians present.

Mrs. Ferdinand Townsend then sang two numbers, "Sunbeams," by Renald, and "Were I a Bird," by Logan. Her singing was well received and justly so. She has a finely cultivated voice, and uses it easily and effectively.

The address of the Rev. Dr. Donald D. Munro, pastor of Calvary Baptist church of Kansas City, followed. His subject, "An American in the Making," was a quick, brilliant review of the history of European peoples in their struggles for the mental, moral and physical freedom that has resulted in the most virile, the purest, best and greatest people the world has ever known. Dr. Munro is a native of Scotland, and chose to become an American after he had reached the years of manhood. From his speech Friday night he would have us believe he is a better American for having made the choice after the most serious consideration than having been born an American and having no choice in the matter, and perhaps not appreciating the heritage of American citizenship, as it sometimes happens among men.

Dr. Munro is one of the greatest men and ministers in the country today, and one could not but feel proud he had made the choice he has made. He gives full credit to the men of England, Scotland and Ireland for the part they had in furnishing American citizens and he is proud, through and through, of his own Scotland. His humor is wholesome, breezy, bracing, and everybody enjoyed him thoroughly.

After Dr. Munro's talk Mrs. F. P. Robinson gave two vocal numbers, "A Memory," by Lang, and "Joy of the Morning," by Beach, and was very enthusiastically received, as always.

The class was presented their diplomas by Superintendent C. A. Hawkins in a really eloquent speech. Those receiving them were Carrie Margaret Baker, Hazel Everhart, Myrtle Glen Bickles, Vera Tilson, Mildred Jean Binson, Herman Fisher, Helen Marjorie Hilly, Blanche Grace Shipp, Robert Luther Brown, Theodore Garrison Robinson, Edward Wright Gray.

The evening closed with two splendid vocal numbers by Rev. G. H. Cox, "Mavourneen," an Irish song by Lang, and "The Year's at the Spring," by Beach.

The benediction was given by Dr. Munro.

Kansas Guests Leave.

Mr. Leslie Hazelwood and Miss Marie Hazelwood of Atlanta, Kan., who have been the guests of Mrs. S. S. Casteel the past week, left for their home Friday.

ELECTION OF POSTMASTERS.

Busby Measure Provides Selection by Votes of the People.

Senator William G. Busby of Carrollton has a bill at Jefferson City that would enable the people to vote on their postmasters. Candidates for such places this year need not feel the least afraid, however, as the bill, if passed, will not become effective until 1916.

The plan of Busby is similar to the plan of selecting United States senators by a direct vote of the people. The idea is that legislators in congress and the president of the United States, who has the power of appointment, will respect the wishes of the people in the appointment of postmasters where the candidates are selected by ballot.

Busby's bill provides that the towns in each congressman's district shall be numbered, and that the numbers of the towns shall be filled with the county clerks of the district. Each political party shall select candidates for these numbered towns. Not less than thirty days prior to the election, candidates for the position of postmaster shall file their notice of candidacy. The names will be placed on a separate ballot, and the candidate receiving the highest vote of that party which elects a president shall be considered the choice of the voters of the town for postmaster.

Penalties are proposed for violation of the provisions of the law. Whether or not the act becomes a law, the author declares, it will start the people to thinking of the possibilities of such a statute, and that some future legislature will pass a similar act, even if the present one does not.

Busby declares that, so far as he knows, no state in the Union has such a statute, and so far as he knows, no state legislature has been presented with such a bill.

WON FROM BENTON TEAM.

Score Was 36 to 25 for the Normal—To Play at Cameron Tonight.

St. Joseph, Jan. 25.—The Northwest Normal basketball team got revenge on the Benton highs for former defeats here last night when they defeated the south siders at Putter's hall by a score of 36 to 25. Though exceedingly rough, the game was interesting throughout and a large crowd of rooters cheered for their favorites.

Benton scored first with two free throws, then Perrin evened the count with a field goal, and from then on the Normal was in the lead. At the end of the first half the green and white led, 19 to 10, and in the final period the winners counted 17 more and the Bentons got 15. All but eight of Benton's points were scored by McDonald on free throws, while the Normal counted thirteen field goals and ten from the foul line. The line-up:

Benton—McDonald and Weir, forwards; Otten, center; Garber and Bussjager, guards.

Normal—Vandersloot and Daise, forwards; Perrin, center; McClintock and Taylor, guards.

Summary—Field goals, Vandersloot 5, Daise 4, Perrin 4, McDonald 2, Weir, Otten. Free throws, McDonald, 16 out of 23. Perrin, 8 out of 16. Vandersloot, 2 out of 3. One point was awarded each team.

Saturday morning the Normal squad left for Cameron, where they will meet the Missouri Wesleyan college quintet Saturday night. The teachers feel good over their victory last night and hope to return home with a clean slate.

PAYFORD DRAGGING ROAD

New Bill Would Allow 60 Cents Per Mile for Road Dragging—Lots of Liquor Bills Introduced.

(By William Job.)

Jefferson City, Jan. 24.—The senate and house met this forenoon and several resolutions were offered and bills introduced. Both bodies have adjourned to Monday at 2 o'clock, which will give several of the committees time to catch up with their work.

The first bill to pass the house was Speaker Hull's automobile law, reducing the license fee to dealers from $16 to $10, but the fee for automobiles remains the same. Taking and operating an automobile without the consent of the owner is made a misdemeanor, and in case the party is a chauffeur his license is revoked, and in no case is he granted a license again. The bill passed the house by 121 yeas to 3 nays.

There is a bill in the senate providing for an annual registration fee of $5 on all corporations for the benefit of good roads, which would increase the road fund $100,000 annually if it passes.

A joint and concurrent resolution submitting to the voters of the state an amendment to the constitution creating a state tax of ten cents on the one hundred dollars valuation to be apportioned to each county for a permanent road fund has been introduced. The bill now before the house giving the road overseer or highway engineer the right to employ someone to drag the road four times, or two rounds, at not to exceed 60 cents for any one mile, or not to exceed $10 for any one year per mile, preference given to the occupants of the land abutting the road, is conceded to be a good bill, especially in that part of the state where the road drag works like a charm, where we have a good road, you will find someone ready to drag the road if they know they can get a little something for their time.

There is a bill now pending increasing the legal weight of a sack of flour from forty-eight to forty-nine pounds. This same bill was bitterly opposed by the millers two years ago and failed to pass.

Liquor bills have been falling into the hopper like a spring shower. One forbidding canning beer in any street, alley, vacant building or lot, making it a fine of $25. I am not sure but what this includes cow sheds, hay stacks or any place to hide. I want to caution my farmer friends to be careful for there is another that forbids candidates treating, as the canning law and this one might blend. There is another requiring a two-thirds petition in a block or town for a license.

One good old honest farmer living near this city came to the city last week and bought a whisky barrel to scald his hogs in, and when he drove the head in he found two large hands of long green tobacco and a small quantity of coffin varnish. He has preserved the tobacco as a keepsake.

Senator Craig has introduced thirteen bills so far, some of them by request.

Sheriff Ed Wallace and Marshal Moberly came to the city the first of the week with a few of the other boys from our county and seemed to be very much devoted to them for a while.

President Taylor of the Normal was in the city at short time looking after the Normal's interests. I suppose he's going on the theory that the early bird catches the worm.

Returned From Europe.

Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Carter of Weston, Mo., who have been studying in Europe the past nineteen months, are visiting Dr. Carter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Carter. Dr. Carter spent fourteen months in the hospital at Vienna, which has an international reputation as the superior of all other institutions in its value for training surgeons, and Mrs. Carter took a special course in music during their stay in Vienna. Mrs. Carter is well known in Maryville and was Miss Artye Mae Mason. During her stay in Maryville she was instructor in music, having graduated from the Hardin college of music at Mexico.

Attended Commencement.

Mrs. William Patterson of Bolckow was the commencement guest of Mrs. Elizabeth French.

TO ADD ON DAVIESS.

Addition Would Make First Senatorial District Slightly Democratic.

A senatorial redistricting bill was introduced in the house at Jefferson City on Friday by Overall of Dunklin county. According to the bill a change is made in the first senatorial district, and it is enlarged by the addition of one county, Daviess, which is taken from the eighth district. The counties now in this senatorial district are Nodaway, Atchison, Worth and Gentry, and with Daviess added to the district it will make the district slightly Democratic.

The population of the counties in the proposed new district was 84,869. In 1908 the Democratic vote of all these counties was 10,784, and the Republican vote was 10,566.

Senator Anderson Craig of this district is reported as saying at Jefferson City that he would be pleased to see the change made, but Senator Busby, representing the eighth, in which Daviess is located, protested.

No change is made in the third district, comprising Holt, Andrew, DeKalb, Clinton, Platte and Clay. The number of senatorial districts is to remain the same, thirty-four.

DEATH AT ELMO.

Joseph Peery Died Friday Evening in the Methodist Hospital at Omaha.

Joseph Peery, a young farmer living two and a half miles east of Maryville, died Friday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in the Methodist hospital at Omaha. Mr. Peery was taken to Omaha the first of the week and was operated on Wednesday for appendicitis. The hospital physicians had no hope for his recovery after the operation was performed, which only prolonged his life.

The funeral services will be held Sunday morning at 11 o'clock in the Christian church of Elmo. Burial in the Odd Fellows' cemetery. Mr. Peery was 25 years old and is survived by his wife and a year-old son. Mrs. Peery was Miss Ava Pruitt of Clearmont. Mr. Peery was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Granville Peery, who lived in Elmo. He leaves three brothers, Grover, Will and Irvin Peery of Elmo, and two sisters, Mrs. Dorothy Cunningham and Mrs. June Davis, who live in Nebraska, all of whom arrived Friday for the funeral.

WAS A SWEET SUBJECT.

Miss Hull Talked on Sugar at the State Normal Friday.

Miss Myra Hull of the Home Economics department of the Normal gave a most interesting and instructive demonstration on "Sugar" before an appreciative audience Friday.

The demonstration covered the chemical composition, commercial phases as well as the use of sugar in the diet and effect of sugar on the preparation of other food principles. Lantern slides were used showing the growth and manufacture of the different commercial sugars which added much to the interest.

Miss Hull and the economics department are to be commended in working up so complete and instructive a demonstration.

The object for which the fair was given was for the improvement of the parish residence of the pastor of St. Benedict church, Rev. Fr. Frowin Mergen, and to refurbish the same. ALLOWED $113,000

JUNKETING COMMITTEE RECOMMENDED THAT APPROPRIATION.

DR. TAYLOR IS HOPEFUL

A Very Favorable Mention of the Committee Leads President to Think School's Needs Will Be Met.

President H. K. Taylor returned Friday from Jefferson City, where he had been lobbying in the interest of the Normal school. Dr. Taylor is of the opinion that the school here will get about the appropriation they are requesting, that of $123,000.

The appropriation committee of the house has set aside Friday, January 31, as the day for that committee to take up the Northwest Normal appropriation. Dr. Taylor will return to Jefferson City then and will be accompanied by several others from here. A strong effort will be made to get the full appropriation that the school is demanding.

According to the report of the junketing committee that inspected and visited the Normal last December, conditions of the school are in fine shape. They recommend that the state appropriate $113,000 for the institution, or $10,000 less than the Normal is wanting. The item they cut down was that for teachers salaries. The Normal wants $90,000 for teachers' salaries for the next two years, and two years ago they received $72,000. The committee think that $80,000 would be a reasonable amount.

A section of the junketing committee reads as follows:

"This institution has increased in its attendance, nearly twice the number in daily attendance now since the last biennial report. It is the youngest Normal school in the state and has had considerable difficulties to encounter, but under the efficient management of the present president and faculty it is coming to the front very rapidly. The books and accounts are in proper condition and the incidental funds received from students are properly accounted for."

PURCHASED SWITCHBOARD.

Hanano Company Closed Deal Friday for One to Be Here by March 7.

The Hanano company purchased Friday a new switchboard of the latest and most up-to-date improvements. The switchboard will be here about March 7. It will be the common battery system and where you can't ring the bell. The board will be in two sections and will contain 1,200 lines.

As soon as the board arrives work will commence on transferring those of the Bell subscribers who want a local phone over to the new switchboard. It will probably be about May 1 before the transfer is made of the wires and phones.

Many new phones are to be purchased, such as office desk phones, and residence phones.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescrip-sibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure,

High School Notes

Friday afternoon was class day for the mid-winter graduates and an elaborate program was arranged. Miss Hazel Everhart sang two numbers, the latter being the class history and prophesy combined. Miss Carrie Margaret Baker played a piano solo and then came the farce, "The Hartville Shakespeare Club," presented by seven girls of the class. The costuming and scenic effect were complete and the acting was without flaw. This club of girls were enjoying one of their regular club meetings and each member was requested to enact their favorite scene taken from one of Shakespeare's plays. They started out very well and with the best of intentions, but when their exit was made it was quite a different group of prima donnas than entered, for it was necessary that each one be conveyed to their respective hotels in the ambulance.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hughes, living completely surprised. The ladies prepared lunch boxes, which were hidden in various places about the rooms.

The men had to hunt for their suppers and eat with the lady whose box they found. After the boxes were disposed of ice cream and popcorn was

ALL YOU NEED IS A CASCARET TONIGHT

No Sick Headache, Bilious Stomach,
Coated Tongue or Constipated
Bowels by Morning.

Turn the rascals out—the headache, the biliousness, the indigestion, the sick, sour stomach and foul gases—turn them out tonight and keep them out with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels or an upset stomach.

Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets cleanse and regulate your stomach; remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and that misery making gas; take the excess bile from your liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from any drug store means a clear head, sweet stomach and clean healthy liver and bowel action for months. Children love to take Cascarets because they taste good—never gripe or sicken.—Advertisement.

COREY OBJECTED TO BUYING T. C. I.

Ex-Trust Magnate Says Price
Paid Was Entirely Too High.

WORTH ABOUT FIFTY A SHARE

Says Gates and Associates Placed Nuisance Value on It—It Was Real Competitor—Would Have Been Factor in Rail Trade for Some Time.

New York, Jan. 25.—The Tennessee Coal and Iron company was taken over by the United States Steel corporation during the panic of 1907 despite the protests of the corporation's president, William B. Corey. He so testified under cross-examination at the hearing of the government's suit to dissolve the corporation. He declared he had not concurred in the purchase because the price paid was too high. This price was the equivalent to $119 a share. Mr. Corey said he did not believe the stock was worth more than $50 a share. He added that John W. Gates and others who controlled Tennessee Coal and Iron had placed a "nuisance value" on the property.

"Mr. Gates told me that the stock was cheap at $250 a share," Corey testified. "I invariably replied that he was $200 too high."

Was Real Competitor.

Despite all efforts of attorneys for the corporation to confuse his testimony, Mr. Corey persisted in his contention that the Tennessee Coal and Iron company was and would have continued a steel rail competitor of the United States Steel corporation if it had not been taken over. One reason was because of the "nuisance value." He admitted that the company could not at that time make its open hearth steel rails at a profit, but said it would soon have been able to reduce its costs.

Corey was questioned about Judge Gary's knowledge of steel pools.

"He knew about all the pools all the time, because he attended some of the meetings," said Mr. Corey, mentioning the rail pool and the plate and structural pool meetings.

Before the Stanley steel investigating committee Judge Gary testified that as soon as the existence of the pools came to his knowledge he had ordered them stopped.

Mr. Corey said that he was not in accord with Judge Gary's views at all times, but declared that there was no ill feeling between them, although there was some question as to who was the chief executive, himself or Judge Gary.

EUGENE DEBS UNDER ARREST

Socialist Leader is Charged With Obstructing Justice.

Terre Haute, Ind., Jan. 25.—Eugene V. Debs, Socialist candidate for president of the United States in the last election, was arrested here on an indictment returned against him in the federal court for the third district of Kansas. Debs was charged with obstructing justice.

Debs wrote an expose of alleged conditions in the Fort Leavenworth prison for the Appeal to Reason which caused a government investigation. The matter printed in the Appeal was considered obscene by the federal grand jury and action was brought against the editors for sending it through the mails.

The witnesses in this case, it is alleged, Mr. Debs encouraged to leave the jurisdiction of the court. Debs brands the indictment as an effort to ruin the Appeal to Reason.

The arrest was made by federal officers from Indianapolis. The warrant was served in Debs' office and he accompanied the officers to the office of a United States commissioner where he furnished a $1,000 bond for his appearance at the May term of the United States court of the Third Kansas district.

Cuts Living Cost for Its Employees.

New York, Jan. 25.—The inauguration of a co-operative plan for all employees of the New York subway and elevated lines and the surface lines of the New York Railways company which will enable them to purchase at cost the necessities of life, was announced by Theodore P. Shonts, president of the Interborough Rapid Transit company and affiliated lines. An increase of wages, amounting to approximately $150,000 a year, also was announced.

Half Senate Composed of Democrats.

Washington, Jan. 25.—Democratic control of the next senate, which became a certainty when John K. Shields was elected by the Tennessee legislature, now rests at the minimum strength of forty-eight, exactly one-half of the membership of the senate. Democratic leaders are now watching Illinois, New Hampshire, West Virginia and Wyoming in the belief that a Democratic senator may be added to the list from some one of these states.

MILD WINTER HAS ITS EFFECT ON TRADE

Irregularity in Reports Due to
Weather and Tariff Talks.

New York, Jan. 25.—Bradstreet's says:

Weather conditions and tariff talk have made for irregularity in trade reports this week, while financial feeling has reflected marked changes from peace negotiations in the near east. Rain and snow have been more widely distributed than for a long time, but this, while beneficial to winter-sown cereals, has retarded demand at retail and resulted in a continuance of flood conditions. In the leading industries there is almost unanimous report of activity. Coal is an exception, however. Mild winter weather has helped the building trades and iron and steel lines are also well employed. Labor has been well employed, except in New York. The grain markets lost some of their earlier January strength this week, but price changes were not important.

FIRE ADJUSTERS INDICTED

True Bills Returned Against Arson Clique in Chicago.

Chicago, Jan. 25.—Indictments against four men, charging arson and burning property to defraud, were returned by the grand jury in connection with the investigation of the alleged "arson ring." Those named in the true bills were: Samuel Rottenberg, Joseph Clarke, Harry Brown and John Kabizak.

Rottenberg, Clarke and Brown are public fire insurance adjusters, and Kabizak is said to be one of the "torch bearers" employed by the combine. The bond of each defendant was fixed at $40,000.

Driver Killed by Snowslide.

St. Anthony, Ida., Jan. 25.—With a tale of death and intense suffering State Game Warden D. F. Hudson of Wyoming arrived here from Jackson's Hole, Wyoming. He was caught in a snowslide coming through Canyon pass on a mail wagon. Owen Curtis, the youthful driver, and a horse were killed. The accident occurred in exactly the same spot where the boy's predecessor lost his life in a similar slide last year.

Democrats to Hold Up Confirmations.

Washington, Jan. 25.—Democratic senators in caucus reaffirmed their determination to permit none of President Taft's nominations to be confirmed at this time, with the exception of army, navy and diplomatic appointments. The caucus was called at the instance of Senator Newlands to see if it were not possible to confirm Interstate Commerce Commissioner Clark's appointment.

Doctor Fined on U. S. Charge.

Kansas City, Jan. 25.—Dr. J. O. Lee of Kansas City, one of a number of physicians arrested by United States marshals recently in the government's crusade to stamp out the sending of illicit advertising through the mails, pleaded guilty to the charge of mailing improper matter in the federal court. He was fined $200.

Hudson Bay Store Burns.

Winnipeg, Jan. 25.—The Hudson Bay company's store at Portage La Prairie, fifty-seven miles west of here, was destroyed by fire. The store contained a large amount of valuable furs. The loss is estimated at $100,000.

SHOOTING NOT PREMEDITATED

Bullet Received by Nazim Pasha
While Upbraiding Rioters.

CALLS MEMBERS OF MOB CURS

Possibility of Complications Thought in Constantinople Sufficient to Prevent Any Measures by Coercion. Retention of Adrianople Main Issue.

Constantinople, Jan. 25.—Nazim Pasha, the commander of the Turkish army, received his death wound while expostulating with a crowd of demonstrators for having become embroiled in a conflict at the grand vizierate. The official version of the affray, which is termed a regrettable incident, was issued.

When the demonstrators, it says, headed by Enver Bey, one of the leaders of the Young Turk party, penetrated the grand vizierate in an attempt to enter the council chamber they were stopped by Hafiz Bey, aide-de-camp to the grand vizier, who, drawing his revolver, fired a shot at them. The aide-de-camp of Nazim Pasha also fired at the crowd, his bullet striking Mehmed Nedjif, one of the demonstrators.

The demonstrators thereupon repelled and Nazim's aide-de-camp was instantly killed.

Bullet Interrupts Speech.

Nazim Pasha, who was in the council chamber, heard the shots and rushed outside. Facing the demonstrators, he upbraided them, calling them ill-mannered curs. While he was speaking a bullet cut short his remarks, and he fell dead.

A secret police agent and attendant of the Sheikh-ul-Islam, head of the Mohammedan clergy, also was killed. Nazim Pasha's aide-de-camp was the general's nephew, Captain Tewfik Bey Kibrizli. He was a very popular officer.

The leading unionists of Constantinople declare that the shooting of Nazim was unpremeditated and much regretted, but under the circumstances unavoidable. They say that the unionists bore no ill will toward Nazim, whose open and soldierly character made him respected even by his political opponents. The fact that a notorious enemy of the Committee of Union and Progress, like Rechad Pasha, the late minister of the interior, was allowed to go scot-free, it is argued, proves that the demonstrators desired to avoid bloodshed.

All the old ministers were set at liberty and permitted to return to their homes.

War's Renewal Undesirable.

The views held in official circles with regard to the situation between Turkey and the Balkan allies may be set forth as follows:

The Turkish government does not desire a resumption of hostilities, but the European powers are even less anxious to witness a renewal of the war, owing to the danger of complications in Europe. Turkey realizes its condition of financial penury, but this condition is chronic to it, and means are always at hand for keeping afloat.

On the other hand, from a military standpoint, Turkey is in a better condition than ever to wage war with advantage, especially as the government believes the forces of the allies are near the point of exhaustion. Nevertheless, the ports would prefer to avoid further bloodshed if this is possible with honor and the possession of Adrianople by the allies is not insisted on.

DO NOT LIKE KNOX NOTE

Reply to Grey is Found Unsatisfactory by London Papers.

London, Jan. 25.—Secretary Knox's reply to Sir Edward Grey on the question of Panama is found unsatisfactory by the newspapers which comment on it.

The Westminster Gazette, generally looked upon as the mouthpiece of the government, says: "The Knox suggestion leaves the door open to a long series of bickerings which might do much to undermine the good relations of the two countries."

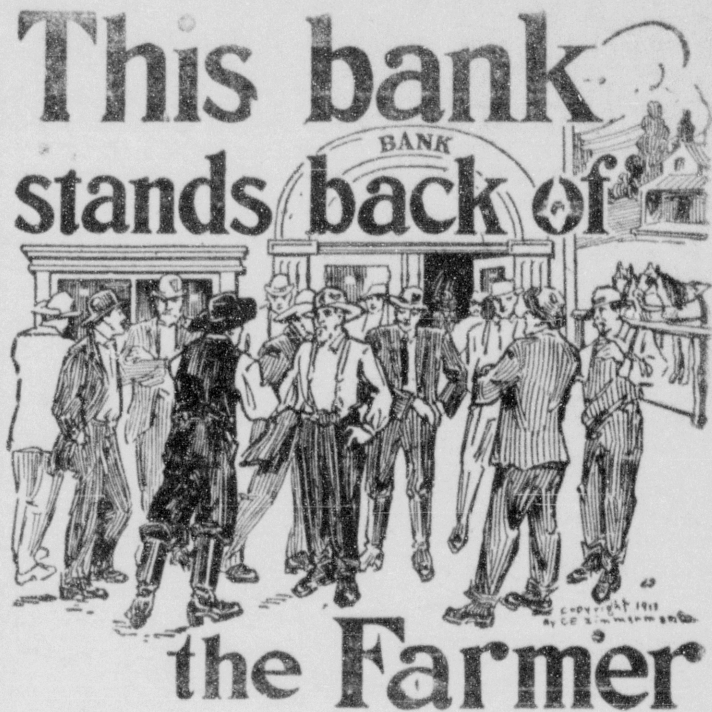

The Pall Mall Gazette says: "Coming from any other country than the United States, the tone of Secretary Knox's reply would be deeply resented. Unless international law overrides municipal law when treaty rights clash with it, international law has no existence and peaceful intercourse between states becomes impossible."

Extension of Road to Cross Montana.

Minneapolis, Jan. 25.—The Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie railroad will spend $25,000,000 in building 725 miles of new road, which will cross Montana and strike the Canadian Pacific somewhere near the Montana-Idaho boundary line. This announcement was made by President Pennington, who has just returned from Montreal.

Frostbitten Fruit Barred From Trade.

Washington, Jan. 25.—In order to protect consumers and to prevent the flooding of the markets with oranges and lemons declared to be unfit for food, the federal board of food and drug inspection issued an order forbidding the sale in interstate commerce of fruits which have been damaged in the recent freeze in California.

NOT FIGHTING POST.

Express Company Officials Say It Was Established in Response to Wide-Spread Demand.

Taking a bitter pill gracefully is a hard thing to do, and when a big corporation takes a particularly bitter one with unusual gracefulness it is a matter for comment. The following notice has been received at the Adams express office here from the office of the president of the company:

"To officers, agents and employees: Because of many inquiries from employees and others, it is deemed proper to state the attitude and policy of the Adams Express company toward the parcel post inaugurated on the 1st instant.

"The company appreciates that the parcel post has been established in response to a widespread and persistent demand, and anticipates it has come to stay. The company's policy will be to devote its energies to rendering a service even more efficient and satisfactory than in the past, and all officers and employees are directed to exert every effort to that end. The company does not wish any of its employees to adopt a policy of fault-finding toward the parcel post, but expects them by their efficiency, to demonstrate to its patrons the necessity for the express company's distinctive service.

"W. M. BARRETT, President."

The attitude of the Wells-Fargo company is similar to that expressed above, and indicates that the shrewd men at the head of these big companies realize the wisdom of refraining from "knocking" a business competitor.

WHAT A COINCIDENCE!

Story of an Old Man's Hat, an Adopted Son, and a School Teacher.

By AUGUSTUS GOODRICH SHERWIN.

A neatly appressed girl walking slowly and sadly down a shady street in Creston. Ahead of her a wizened, bent old man was picking his careful way where the pavement was most shaded, for the sun was blistering hot. Only a stiff rollicking breeze saved the day from utter sultriness. As the old man turned the corner the wind caught him like a cyclone. It bent his old fashioned high hat rolling and tumbling behind him.

Immediately a crowd of urchins playing in a vacant lot just off the street made a dive for the frayed, discolored head gear.

"Get it! Get it!" shouted jubilant voices. "Old Wilson's hat. Put it on the post and peg at it!"

"Boys, boys," chided the young lady, throwing up her veil and showing a face tear stained but resolute enough even in its rare prettiness to daunt the lads. She managed to catch hold of a big boy who had secured the hat.

"Give it to me," she said firmly. "The old gentleman is waiting for it."

"Humph, him!" cried the lad, contemptuously. "Why, he's only old Miser Wilson. Take it, though—just because you're so pretty, and are going to be our teacher."

The girl smiled brightly at the compliment. Her lip quivered, however, at the last words of the boy. She compressed them tightly and went up to the old man.

"The wind blew your hat away," she said.

"And you rescued it from those young tormentors," broke in the old man sharply. "I saw it all. I suppose," and his keen eyes sparkled, and he chuckled, "they told you who I was."

"Yes—Mr. Wilson."

"And the old miser? Hey, did they say that? You don't want to go around doing favors for old misers, do you, young lady?"

"Why, if they deserve it, surely you do not look very dreadful, Mr. Wilson," said the young lady with a smile.

"You're the right sort, Miss Nellie Merrill," suddenly spoke out the old fellow. "You see, I know you. You are the young lady they sent for yesterday to teach the new school here. They pointed you out to me as you went to see the school trustees this morning. You'll make a good teacher, I can see that, and I'm going to tell the trustees so."

Miss Nellie's bright face clouded; again those gentle eyes were close to tears.

"I am afraid it will do no good, Mr. Wilson," she said mournfully.

"Why, what do you mean?" asked the old man.

"They have given me my expenses and a trifle more for coming down here," said Nellie. "They were a little premature, you see. Under the law they cannot begin school until here are 50 possible scholars between the ages of six and eighteen in the district."

"And you mean to say there aren't more than that in the township?" cried old Wilson. "Why, I fancy I could count more than that in boys alone who have stoned my windows, robbed my orchards, and made themselves generally disagreeable."

"The count is official," explained Miss Nellie. "There are three scholars short, and the trustees have put off opening the school until the winter term."

Gabriel Wilson had been softly crushing his cherished hat all this time. Between whiles he stole keen glances at the modest, womanly girl before him.

"I suppose you've just been studying yourself half to death to qualify for the wretched $20 a month and board you were to get here?" he inquired with manifest interest.

"I am an orphan, and have no family dependence," said Nellie. "I am pretty bad at missing this splendid position."

"An orphan, eh?" repeated old Gabriel thoughtfully. "So is my boy—that is, my adopted son, Sidney. He's away at college now, studying to be a lawyer. If I'm miserly, it's for him, dear boy. So, Miss," and the old man seemed stirred by a strong and sudden resolution, "you were to board with Miss Briggs, if everything went smooth, weren't you?"

"Why, yes, I believe that is the name of the lady."

"Well, I'm going to take you there now. I want you to promise not to go back to the city for a day or two. I've taken a sort of interest in you because—well, I had a little girl who died. She'd just about be your age if she had lived till now. I think I can fix this school question. Will you let me try?"

Nellie hesitated, but not for long. She went to Miss Briggs. It was the next afternoon when old Gabriel appeared. He was sprightly and smiling.

"I guess there must be a genuine, warm spot somewhere in this hard old heart of mine," he said, "for old Wilson the miser feels about as happy as you will when I tell you that the full fifty quota of scholars has been provided for."

"Oh, Mr. Wilson, can it be true?" cried Nellie joyfully.

"Yes, you can start in tomorrow, and I hope you drive some respectability into that unruly mob of boys who wanted to peg my old hat. My hat—think of it. In the family since the 40's, Miss Merrill!"

"How did you ever influence the school trustees?" inquired Nellie.

"Just moved a squatter's family with eight children over the township line into a vacant house I own inside the school district," explained old Gabriel with a chuckle of satisfaction and pride.

Life became a dream of beauty to Nellie in the lovely little village. The townspeople took to her gentle ways and the scholars idolized her. It seemed as if his rare, good deed had somehow renovated the penurious old Gabriel. At all events, he never missed a public examination in the little red school house. At the end of the term, the first exhibition day he marched proudly into the place with his adopted son, just home from college.

The young man decided that it was a relief to sit for two hours and take in the simple, yet interesting exercises of the graduation day of half a dozen proud children into class two. It charmed him to note the rare patience and kindness of the young girl fighting her first battle in the arena of life for her daily bread.

All this young Sidney told his adopted father. The latter simply chuckled, as was his wont, and muttered something about "good taste," and "respect for old age, and what attached to it—even old hats."

Then came the two weeks' vacation, embracing the winter holidays. Naturally old Gabriel called to see Nellie. Naturally, too, he took Sidney with him.

The sly old man heard of skating and coasting parties after that. The day before the new term began he called Sidney to him.

"See here, young man," he observed. "I never find Nella at home when I call now. I never find you at home at all. As a lonely old man, let me suggest that it would be a fine thing to get her into the family."

"Why," smiled Sidney, broadly and happily, "what a coincidence! I suggested the same thing to Nella only last evening!"

CARELESS OF SMALL CHANGE

Like the Pin, Thousands of Pennies Are Lost Every Year—Many Are Carried Abroad.

That Americans are careless of their small change is evidenced by the fact that of the 150,000,000 pennies annually sent out from the Philadelphia mint only a small percentage are ever accounted for afterward, remarks Harper's Weekly.

It is thought that but a very small percentage of pennies lost in the streets are ever found, since they lack luster and fail to catch the eye as does a silver coin. The chances are that they are swept up with rubbish and so, for the most part, lost as coins.

When the new Lincoln pennies were first placed in circulation thousands were used as souvenirs, never again to find their way into general circulation. Hundreds were gold plated and silvered to be used as cuff links and stickpins.

County fairs and shows of various kinds mutilate thousands of pennies every year. At the fairs one may see a machine that will flatten a cent and at the same time emboss a souvenir view of the event.

Hundreds of thousands of pennies are carried out of the United States by tourists, who leave them abroad. A year or two ago 100,000 of them were shipped to Cuban bankers and placed in circulation among the laboring classes in Cuba. The American copper runs a close second to the pin, of which millions are lost every year.

Will Never Have to Propose Again.

"Then you won't marry me?"

"No, Archibald, I will not."

"You will not change your mind and be sorry afterward that you have refused me?"

"Positively not."

"This, I suppose, is final."

"Absolutely."

"And there will be no come back?"

"None."

"You realize what you are doing?"

"Yes, I do. I wouldn't marry you if you were the last man on earth."

"Thank heaven," murmured the old bachelor, "I have done my duty."

"You're an angel, Maggie. I am going to send you a box of flowers. I was afraid you might accept me. Now, having been disappointed in love, I will never have to propose again."

SAYS RAILROAD TAX IS A JOKE

Corporations Taxed by Guess Work, Phelps Tells Committee.

FORMER LOBBYIST IN NEW ROLE

Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 25.—Colonel William Phelps, reformed railroad lobbyist, appeared before the railroad committee of the house in a plea for a public service commission with "teeth" to handle the corporations.

In the course of his speech he made several observations as to how the railroads and other corporations have dominated the state for their own benefit. It was not mere assertions the former lobbyist made, but a confession of what he knew existed from his long years of experience with the railroads.

"You can't fool the people any more," Colonel Phelps said, with a vigorous gesture, as he began his remarks.

The way the state of Missouri taxes the corporations, especially the railroads, is a joke and the people are the butts of it," he continued.

"I asked a member of the state board of equalization the other day how they assessed the railroads," he said. "I imagine it would shock the people a good deal if they really knew how it was done."

"We don't have time to find out what they really ought to pay," the members of that board told me. 'So we take their figures and increase them some' for good measure and let it go at that. And that is exactly the way they are taxed."

Colonel Phelps said the greatest need for the public service commission was to have a body to find the physical valuation of the railroads and street car companies so that the state could quit the "guess work" taxation system.

The hearing was upon a house bill giving the present board of railroad and warehouse commissioners some of the powers of the proposed public utilities commission and letting it go at that. At least that is what Colonel Phelps intimated the bill proposed to do.

"The corporations have loaded the railroad and warehouse commissioners with duties, such as grain inspection and the like, and at the same time taken away their powers until it is worse than a joke," Colonel Phelps declared.

Upon invitation of Colonel Phelps, the railroad committee took no action upon the bill before it, but adjourned to meet jointly with the private corporations committee when the "rail road commissioners' bill and the railroad bill will be discussed together. Nearly every large corporation in the state will be represented at this hearing.

"JIM CROW" BILL IN MISSOURI

Legislation Against the Negro Ready to Be Introduced.

Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 25.—A "Jim Crow" bill, requiring railroads and street car companies to provide separate coaches for negroes, will be introduced in the house today. It is expected that the house and senate Democrats will hold a caucus next week to decide whether the party shall take the measures up as party measures or not.

The house passed its first bill. Speaker Hull was the author. It amended the present motor car law by providing for an additional clerk, with a salary of $1,800 a year, in the secretary of state's office to help with the licenses. It also provides $500 fine for any person to take a motor car without leave for a "joy ride."

The house committee has reported the bill prohibiting free lunches in saloons, with a recommendation that it pass.

TEN FIREMEN OVERCOME

One Drowned in Flooded Basement at St. Louis.

St. Louis, Jan. 25.—One fireman was drowned in a flooded basement after having been overcome by chemical fumes with nine of his companions in fighting a fire in the plant of a glass company.

A broken window, through which the firemen entered, and lifted desks and lockers caused the police to think that the fire was started by burglars. Ten firemen were overcome by other fumes when they entered the basement and Charles Koester fell in three feet of water and was drowned.

Ohio Flood Into Missouri.

Cairo, Ill., Jan. 25.—A gap 400 feet wide has opened in the levee at Big Lake, on the Missouri side, and water is pouring over Mississippi county through the Fish Lake basin. A large section of southeast Missouri is being inundated rapidly. The residents are fleeing, leaving stock and household effects behind. Thousands of bushels of corn and other grains will be ruined.

New Women of Persia.

Persian women are essentially feminine. They want our dress, our education, our freedom, our happiness. Dress, it will be observed, comes first in the catalogue of feminine wants, but a change of dress or coiffure seems essential to all revolutionary movements.

In Teheran, in place of the face veil of white cloth, the Persian new woman now wears a small square of black net or woven horse hair; her shoes have high heels; a European skirt has taken the place of the short skirt and narrow trousers; the head kerchief is being abandoned. One lady tried to introduce an outfit to take the place of the "chuddur," leaving the face heavily veiled; but it was too revolutionary even for Teheran, and, after being mistaken for the ex-Shah in disguise, the wearer reverted in disgust to more orthodox clothes. In her home the new woman offers cigarettes instead of the water pipe.—Moslem World.

How the Eiffel Tower Moves.

That the Eiffel Tower moves daily in a vertical and horizontal sense has long been beyond doubt. Apart from the scientific laws of expansion and contraction which inevitably affected it, one could see it during a gale swaying from side to side. But its vertical movements were a mere matter of conjecture until M. Guillaume undertook to investigate them. He shows that the great iron structure may vary an inch in height every day. The elevation or depression is not equally distributed, as only one of its sides may be affected by the rise or fall of the temperature, and thus the tower may be compared to a person shifting his weight alternately from one foot to the other.

Festival of Old Maids.

St. Catherine's Day, the festival of old maids, was celebrated gaily in the Rue de la Paix, Paris.

It is the custom in Paris dressmaking establishments for the workgirls on November 25 to crown with white caps those comrades who, during the year, have reached the age of 25. The other girls put on caps of various kinds, and carry sprigs of orange blossom. During the afternoon, if the head of the business is generous, they drink the health of the old maids in champagne.

Exception.

"How did you find the roads up around Jingleville Corners?" asked Bilkins of Slatherberry, who had just returned from a motor trip.

"Oh, I wasn't particularly stuck on them," said Slatherberry.

"Really?" said Bilkins. "Well, I guess you're the only man that wasn't. I was stuck on 'em for a whole day last year."—Harper's Weekly.

Woman's Story.

A lady wrote to 25 friends and told them she was giving a "white elephant" party, and that each guest was to come and bring the absolute most useless thing she possessed. And the whole 25 women turned up with their husbands!

Another lady was giving what is called a book tea—each guest to wear, pinned on her dress, something to represent the name of some book. The name of each book had been guessed, with one exception.

The lady who still puzzled everyone wore a photograph of her husband on her bodice. No one could guess the name of the book she intended the picture to represent, and after they had all given it up" she told them—"Life's Handicap."
